

Inland Empire staffing firm adds two new employees September 29, 2011

Finesse is also expanding Phoenix office

RANCHO CUCAMONGA, Calif. (Sept. 27, 2011) – Rancho Cucamonga-based Finesse Staffing has expanded its office with two new full-time employees. The company recently hired Jayme Danko, as an account coordinator, and Danae Marvin, as office coordinator.

In her new position, Danko will help Finesse sales reps develop leads, while Marvin will handle filing, forms and other clerical work.

Sarah Cullins, president of Finesse Staffing, said the company has hired several new staff members in the Rancho Cucamonga office, and is also expanding its Phoenix, Ariz. office.

“We are bringing new employees on to help meet increased demand from our clients, and also deal with our busy season,” Cullins said. “Increased demand shows that Inland Empire hiring is slowly picking up.”

Cullins said that although Danko and Marvin are fairly new to the workforce, she is confident they will do well.

“Both of them are very smart and customer-service oriented, so I am sure they will do a great job,” Cullins said.

Danko lives in Riverside and attended Riverside Community College, while

Marvin lives in Redlands and attends the Art Institute of California, San Bernardino.

About Finesse Staffing

Based in Rancho Cucamonga, Finesse Staffing provides a comprehensive package of HR services to companies in the distribution, manufacturing, financial services and legal industries. Finesse Staffing’s services include hiring and placing employees, strategic planning and training. For more information go to www.finessestaffing.com, or www.facebook.com/Finessestaffing.